Show and Tell – Q

Paul Kwiatkowski showed us a “Rolex – Quartz”. This was a reproduction with a nice case, but not authentic. Paul shared with us a story of a rich friend of his who DID buy a one-of-a-handful of Rolex Quartz in Switzerland with the case and wristband made of 18-kt gold, President's model. Paul serviced the watch and later the watch was sold for $8K.

John Wagner showed us a Breitling Quartz that he bought when they stopped making a mechanical watch that he had ordered. Even though quartz, it was still quite expensive.

Norm Krueger showed us a 1/4-hour Quail clock he has owned ~ 26 years, running daily. The Quail pre-announces the cuckoo.

Mike Mireles shared a Leatherman watch that was a birthday present from his son. The wristband contains all kind of mini-tools (sockets, screw-drivers, can & bottle-opener).

Paul Jancarich showed us his “Questionable” no-name porcelain

Jerry Tiemens shared a Movado Quartz watch as a birthday present from his wife. Jerry also showed us a 1-hand 30-hour clock.
